Re: Shell eggs produced for Fareway by Sparboe Farms

This letter is to serve as an updated notification to Fareway and its customers that product they have and continue to receive from Sparboe Farms is not affected by the ongoing voluntary egg recalls taking place. Eggs produced for Fareway are supplied through a Sparboe Farms facility that has not received any product from Wright County Egg and Hillandale Farms who are performing voluntary shell egg recalls.

Sparboe Farms takes great pride in producing the safest, highest quality products for its customers. Along with this, we're the first shell egg producer to achieve certification under the Safe Quality Food (SQF) program and maintain the highest level that can be attained (Level 3) at all our Sparboe Farms shell egg facilities. Our protocols; combined with our SE prevention programs, ensure that we produce the safest product possible.

If you have any questions or inquiries into this matter, please contact us at the number listed below.
